Legal Aid Society of San Mateo County Adds Expertise to Board of Directors

Redwood City, CA – The Legal Aid Society of San Mateo County announces the addition of three new leaders to its board of directors, from a variety of private sector backgrounds.

“As the Legal Aid Society of San Mateo County continues to fight social injustice for people living in poverty through civil legal advocacy, we welcome the addition of these outstanding new board members,” says Mary Lin, Legal Aid Board President. “Their experience and expertise in law and strategic business management will strengthen Legal Aid’s ability to extend its impact throughout San Mateo County and the entire Bay Area.”

Karen Greenwood is a principal at Solano Strategies, a boutique sales and strategy consulting firm.

Alison Watkins is a Senior Associate in the Palo Alto office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, where she focuses on intellectual property litigation.

Adam Zapala is a Principal at Cotchett, Pitre & McCarthy, LLP, where he focuses on antitrust, employment/civil rights litigation, false claims litigation, consumer protection and class actions generally.
